

TO ASK FOR $50,000 FOR SIDEWALKS

The Warrant for the annual Town Meeting has now been printed. Article 22 asks that the town appropriate a sum of money for the construction of sidewalks, a sum of money which was identified as $50,000 by Town Engineer Arthur Harding, in a Selectman's hearing, in the Library Tuesday.

Harding told those present, about seventy residents, that the money would be used to construct sidewalks around the Shawsheen Avenue School, the Boutwell Street School and the Woburn Street School. The question, he said would be up to the voters. If they wanted to vote money for sidewalks, after they learned what the tax rate would be, they could, was the way that Harding expressed it.

Harding was the main speaker during the hearing, which lasted until 10:30 p.m., and was for the purpose of providing information about accepting streets, and construction of sidewalks.

FINANCE COMMITTEE AT WORK: On items in the Town Manager's Budget, photo taken in Town Hall last Saturday.

With the Town Meeting fast approaching, the Wilmington Finance Committee has had a busy week, starting with the Public Hearing of February 10th.

In that hearing they heard the Chairman of the Planning Board give an opinion that they might have recommendations of Apartment Housing in "four or five months" - and they heard also that the Board of Appeals had turned down an appeal for additional parking off West Street, where the Compugraphic Corp. wants to erect a large manufacturing building.

The testimony was enough to elicit from Rodney Laughton, Secretary, the question: You mean they turned that down - and granted the Sons of Italy Case?

Monday evening the Finance Committee met with the School Committee, for the expressed view of asking for a 10% cut in the School Budget. The meeting was held behind closed doors, although other members of the School Committee later expressed their surprise that the doors had been closed.

The chances of getting a cut from the School Board are very slim. The School Committee is engaged in conversation at the present time with the bargaining committee from the Wilmington Teachers Association. Originally the wage increase was 20%, across the board, according to one source. Today it is supposed to be in the neighborhood of 13 1/2%.

Maple Manor Hearing

The scheduled hearing for Maple Manor did not take place, Tuesday evening, in the Planning Board meeting.

Instead everybody was talking at once, about whether a hearing would be legal, if it were held. Attorney Gene Tougas, of Waltham, representing the developers, assured the Planning Board, blandly, on more than one occasion, that "I wouldn't be able to sleep tonight, even if you approved the plan". Attorney Tougas was the only person who had not been notified by registered mail. He felt that some other party might sue the Planning Board, because he had not been notified, and whatever decision the Planning Board had made might thus be upset in court.

Danny Gillis pointed out that all the abutments were present - that they had been present the week before, when none of the proponents had shown up, and now the stand of Tougas would mean that the abutments would have to come to a third session.

Gillis called the Town Counsel, Alan Altman. Altman talked also with Tougas, and then was reported as saying that he felt the hearing was legal, but that there could be a question about the notices.

Danny Gillis asked the Chairman to ask Tougas if he was willing to go on with the hearing. Hooper did not ask the question.

Then there was a vote, unanimous except for Hooper, that he ask Tougas. This time it was Tougas who hedged, and then he said he felt that he did not have the authority to make that kind of a decision. Mort Grant wanted to know - if he didn't have the authority, what was he doing there?

Tougas said he thought a hearing would be illegal.

Tougas put on his hat and coat. He said he could not consent to an illegality, and if he did, and his client suffered for it, he could be criticised. Then he went to the door, where he halted to await developments.

The McFayden family of Federal Street, who live at a corner of the proposed street, had said a week ago that they owned property which is being shown as a corner of the road. As Tougas was going out they asked him about this question.

Tougas said he might be wrong, but his engineer was going to check the deeds.

Mort Grant, quite a few times, said that the board should go on with the hearing - he could see nothing wrong. The board voted to hold its hearing on March 4th, which is just before the legal 60 day deadline. Mort Grant voted against the new hearing - 3 to 1.

After 60 days the Planning Board will be unable to disapprove of the plan.

By unanimous vote, the board decided to notify both Tougas and his client by Constable, instead of Registered Mail.

Apartments

The earlier business of the meeting was a visit from Tony Kraminski, Wilmington Assessor, and Roy McClanahan, Building Inspector. They were present because of the previous discussion of apartments, which they had read in the paper.

Kraminski was interested in helping with information on how apartments were assessed. He had had experience, he said, in other towns, in Connecticut, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. They were, he said, "quite a boost" in bringing in income to the town. In his experience, the value of neighboring houses did not drop, providing the apartments were located properly.

McClanahan and Danny Gillis talked about materials to be used, in the construction. McClanahan held that buildings that large should be of First Class construction throughout. Although there is no such thing as "fire proof", he said, the walls between apartments should be fire resistant for a period of one hour or better, depending on standards set.

Later in the meeting a letter was read, by Mort Grant, from the Wilmington Board of Assessors, saying that they were opposed to having outside assessors in, to discuss assessing of apartments. The Board set a letter in reply, regretting the misunderstanding. They were not interested, they said, in the assessor's views on Wilmington, just their actual experience with the apartments in their town.

Dennis Hizam gave his fifth report on Apartments. He dealt with an analysis of the particulars of the two proposals to come before the Town Meeting. He did not have time for an oral presentation, and instead submitted a written one, which, it was said, the board members will read before the hearings on the Warrant articles next week.

The Snowmobile Is OK

Earl Baldwin, former Wilmington resident, now living in Andover, has had two accidents in the past few days.

Earl was in Epping, New Hampshire, last weekend, and his snowmobile got away from him. Earl had to have thirty-five stitches, in one leg, and was condemned to going around on crutches for a few days.

His snowmobile was taken to the Ballou Shop on Andover St., where, after a careful examination it was found to be in excellent condition.

Before Earl could get the snowmobile from the Gallou Shop he was in another accident, this time as a passenger in a car driven by his brother Ernest, also of Andover.

The Baldwin car was in an accident Tuesday with a car driven by Judith DiCiccio of Billerica, at the corner of Clark Street and Middlesex Avenue. Witnesses told the police that the Baldwin car was struck by the other one, which did not stop for a Stop sign.

Now Earl has two banged up legs.

DENTS, BUT NO HOLES: A presentation of Full Torso Armored Vests was made to Police Chief Paul Lynch, in yesterday's Rotary meeting, by Charles Altman and Frank McHugh, of the Specialty Materials Division of Avco Corp. The armored vests, etc., will repel bullets, leaving dents, but no holes.

The Rotarians, yesterday, saw the movies that Avco made last fall, of a simulated hold-up of Commercial Bank & Trust, and of the Shamrock Liquor Store. Pictures of the simulated hold-up of the bank appeared in the Town Crier at the time of the 'robberies'.

Where Did The Taxes Go?

Wilmington has added many fine homes and industries to the town over the years, increasing the assessed valuation of the town from approximately $94 million in 1966 to an estimated $125 million in 1971.

During this time the tax rate has jumped from $32 to an estimated $47.50 per thousand assessed valuation - an increase of nearly 50%. Where has the money gone?

The cost of Town Government, including costs of Blue Cross Group Insurance and other insurance and bonds for schools has increased by 28% during the five year period, while the net cost of schools has increased by 71%. Welfare costs, which were a relatively small part of the total town budget, were absorbed by the state, and are not included in the cost of town government after 1968.

The present school budget takes approximately two thirds (66%) of the 1971 budget. Teachers salaries, constituting over 83% of the school budget, is over one half of the entire town budget.

Teacher's salaries are determined by collective bargaining.

The Educational Lobby, in the State House is extremely effective.

Only through a concerted state legislative effort, initiated by a statewide coalition of Selectmen of the towns, Finance Committees, and other similar groups, will actual control be returned to the towns and cities, over school costs and salaries for teachers.

The present system of organized coercion results in approximately 300 teachers of Wilmington receiving nearly half of the town's total revenue; while many other residents, who help to pay the taxes, are unemployed.

Curtail School Autonomy

The proposed school budget for this year shows a 20 percent increase over last year's budget. The tax payers, however, have little control over these expenditures.

As a member of the School Committee, I would back legislation to curtail the fiscal autonomy granted to the schools by Chapter 71, Section 34 of the General Laws. Only in this way will the tax payers have more control over school spending.

Meanwhile back at the Hut...

Things really did swing last week No 2 called from Ft Dix on Friday and No 1 Son grabbed No 2's Gal and took off like a shot for the airport...Immediately there was a gathering of the Clan...we had expected him earlier in the week...we'd been hoarding a bottle of champagne since the holidays, which was a gift from a good friend...on Sunday night, we celebrated No 2's birthday...and by the way...that guy doesn't change a bit...this Gal swears he could be away for ten years, and pick right up where he left off...with all the noise and commotion he has made since he entered this old world...and we wouldn't part with a minute of it...Ma...MA...sounds just the same at 2 or 22...and that No 1 Son finally admitted it was like having half of him gone while No 2 was overseas...Hmmm, we had wondered about that...since they had always been like Mutt and Jeff...and this Ma certainly is grateful to have such a good bunch of kids and she is so proud of them all...

So, provided she finally shakes the flu bug she has had in between all of this...and provided the School Seance finishes collective bargaining...Nana will be with us on the 25th for four or five days on her way home from Pennsylvania...when the new grandbaby arrives, we hope...this Chick will be seeing you all next week...and meanwhile... Love ya!

Did you ever stop to think why we have noses?

This strange protuberance—is breathing its only function? Breathing seems easy enough, we say. Why do we need a nose? Why won't a mouth do just as well? Think of your nose as a filter. Millions of tiny hairs line the mucous membranes of the nose to trap harmful particles before they reach your lungs. Then, think of your nose as an oven, for it heats the oxygen we inhale, as well as filtering it.

Take good care of your nose, you need it. Breathing through the mouth is really a danger signal. But do not try to diagnose the problem yourself since that can be dangerous. See a doctor. After all, isn't your nose worth it?

INSURANCE INSIGHTS

By Lloyd Bender

Why We Need Insurance

What is the basic reason for insurance?

Man is constantly faced with loss of his possessions by disasters of all kinds. No one is completely safe from natural and man-made perils.

Weather hazards may destroy or damage property. Burglars may steal valuable possessions. Fire may destroy real or personal property. Cars, planes and man's other inventions add new dangers of loss.

How can we be protected from financial ruin in the face of these constant threats?

Insurance is our means of dealing with such problems. It helps us to be prepared for the unpredictable. It is one of the most important factors in modern living.

Insurance helps us to safeguard our security and peace of mind. Insurance lessens the risk in business ventures. We wouldn't have much business progress if there were no protection against risk.

ON TAXES WHAT CAN BE DONE ?

All other suggestions are campaign rhetoric without foundation.

Eventually the town meeting must decide between a major school addition program or a new high school. Either solution is now very expensive and due to rising construction costs delays will result in an average of $35,000 a week increase costs.

If the town continues to grow we will have a sewerage problem to face. This is also a very expensive undertaking.

I propose to help raise the needed funds by:

1. Encourage the growth of tax base through an active program of attracting good non polluting industry to locate on our already industrially zoned land.

2. Expand every effort to make

Town League Basketball

The Chiefs topped the Jets, 29-13 to win the junior division title in the final round of play last Saturday. In other action the upstart Chargers won their third in a row, 29-14 over the hapless Broncos and the Raiders gained a second place tie with the Patriots when the Pats were unable to muster enough players and had to forfeit their game to the Raiders.

Vin Scifo led to victorious Chiefs with 10 points, while Jim Stewart and Dave Maloney chipped in with 8 and 7 respectively. Scott Gordon tosses in six for the fourth place Jets. Ralph Peterson topped all scorers with 17 points in guiding the Chargers to their 3rd win against seven losses. Danny Burns and Tom Sullivan hit six apiece for the lowly Broncos.

In the senior loop, the Lakers clinched first place as they gained a 2-0 forfeit win over the Knicks, who were unable to field a team. The highlight of the afternoon was the come from behind Bullets, 41-39 win over the Celtics, which gave them sole possession of second place. In the third game the Royals balanced their record at 5-5 with a 45-34 win over the cellar dwelling Pistons.

The Bullets outscored the Celtics in the second half, 26-22 to overcome a 17-15 half time deficit enroute to their 3rd straight win. Steve Daniell paced the winners with 16 points, while Ray Noel and Bob Carbone chipped in with 10 and 8 respectively. Mark Nelson (16) and Gary Smith (10) played well for the Celts, who saw their four game win streak snapped. Cliff Clark (17) and Joey Nickerson (12) led the Royals while Bob Stewart hit for 13 for the Pistons.

Harvard clinched second place in the intermediate division with an exciting 8-3 win over Holy Cross last week. Northeastern and Tufts were unable to put five players on the court and a double forfeit was the result.

This Saturday the league will hold the semi-finals of their annual playoffs. In the opener the Chiefs will battle the Jets with tap-off listed for 1 o'clock. The other junior semi-final tilt at 2 p.m., the Patriots will go up against the Raiders. The winners will advance to the finals on Saturday Feb. 27th at the high school with a 2:30 tap-off scheduled.

The senior semi-finals will see the Lakers taping off against the Royals at 3 o'clock, followed by the Bullets-Celtics encounter at 4 p.m. The senior final is listed for 4 o'clock on the 27th of February.

The intermediate finalists will practice this Saturday, Northeastern at the North Int., and Harvard at the West Int. The championship game will take place next Saturday at the high school gym with a 1:30 p.m. tap-off time.

In the adult loop, Ernie's solidified its hold on the top spot with a come-from-behind win over an improving Sweetheart quintet, 85-73 on Wednesday Feb. 10th. Newhouse moved back into second place with an 81-75 triumph over DeLoury.

RED DEVILS
TOP WILDCATS, 4-2

In a battle for first place in MVC last Saturday at the Forum, our varsity sextet came out on the short end of a 4-2 score. Burlington drew first blood with a goal at the 1:00 mark of the opening stanza as Simpson beat Tighe to his glove side with a 30 footer. But the Wildcats came back with a power play goal at 3:18. With Castrobetti, a Red Devil defenseman, sitting out a chargine penalty, co-captain Jim Irwin tied the game with his ninth goal of the season with a goal mouth shot. Seniors Dave Irwin and Mike Esposito assisted on the fourth seasonal power play goal for the Wildcats.

Mid way in the period, at 7:54, Capt. Irwin rifled home a 20 footer from the right side for his tenth goal of the season and a 2-1 Wilmington lead. Dave Irwin and Steve Neal picked up assists on the second Wildcat goal.

The second period was one of frustration as the Wildcats had a goal nullified at 0:13 as the officials ruled that Jim Irwin batted the puck by Walsh in the Burlington goal. McCafferty tied the game at 2-2 with a 30 foot drive.

The Wildcats managed to out shoot the Red Devils 6-1 in the final frame, but they were denied each time. In the final analysis the varsity seemed to lose its drive after the change of events early in the second period. Co-Captains Irwin and Esposito were outstanding in defeat as each never gave up despite the adverse conditions. The varsity maintained a close 16-15 shots on net advantage, but destiny was not with the Wildcats.

Two games remain on the schedule, including Saturdays encounter with an improving No. Reading club and next Monday's affair with rival Tewksbury. The Wildcats need to win both of these games to qualify for the E. Mass Hockey Tourney which takes place in March. The boys could back into the tile if Burlington should lose one of their two remaining games, but that is a distinct possibility.

TRACKMEN WIN CLOSE ONE

Coach Kelley's varsity indoor track squad edged Methuen last week, 41-40 to balance their seasonal record at 3-3. The Wildcats picked up 6 first place finished enroute to the win. Co-Captains Carl Cotter (48'-1 3/4"-shot put) and Larry Harrington

(1:22.2 in 600) led the club while Cliff Friberg (5:10 in mile); Gary Whitcomb (2:44.0 in 1000); Fick Keane (11:05.0 in 2 mile); and Jack Barry (6.5 in high hurdles) finished first in their events.

Other Wildcats to score included: Tom Mirasola (3rd in high hurdles); Jack Gillis (3rd in 300); Harold Walley (3rd in 600, his first varsity point); Jim Murphy (3rd in 1000); Chuck Nee (3rd in mile); Kevin McCormick (3rd in 2 mile); and Ralph Decker (3rd in shot put).

The varsity will conclude its season this afternoon with a dual meet at Andover Academy with St. Mary's of Lynn providing the opposition. Next Monday, Feb. 22nd, the league will hold its annual all-star meet at Phillips Cage in Andover.

BOOTS AND BLADES

Good posture and body control are important factors in all phases of figure skating. Back, head and shoulders should be erect. The palms should be facing down and at about hip level. Keeping these things in mind let's try a method of skating backwards known as

"Sculling": a progression across the ice by moving both feet in and out. (May also be done forward.)

Holding the chest high and without leaning forward, start with your feet fairly close together, toes turned in and knees bent. Allow your feet to separate pressing on the inside edges of your blades at the same time. As your feet spread apart you will move backward. When your feet have separated as far as you dare let them go, draw them in by straightening the knees until the feet are together again. Repeat from the start. "Sculling" should be a continuous movement without any pause when the feet come together and each blade should have made the tracing of a half circle.

Remember to wear your skate walkers when not on the ice!

A tree is one of the most expensive items on your property, so treat it with care and respect from the start.
Think before you plant, because a tree is not easily moved. Remember, a tree should complement your house, not overwhelm it. Make it serve a definite function rather than waste precious space.
Study your property and the siting of the house, so you know where you need shade or screening from nearby neighbors. Make sure you have the right tools to plant with care for your valuable tree.
You'll derive much pleasure from its growth year to year!
Don't waste precious time, with just one stop you can buy all your lumber at A.B. Sweezy, Inc., 615 Main St., 658-2051. We have a complete supply including hardwoods - walnut, oak, cherry, birch and ash...Free delivery service.... Does anyone remember the afternoon raid by state and local police on an Aldrich Road residence which revealed two large stills in full operation.....When Henrietta (Lynch) Burpee got her picture in the paper jumping through a hoop (high school field day).....When Molly Cheifitz ran that delightful Jewish Bakery on Salem Street.....When the Synagogue didn't have its large addition.....When, during WPA days, Wilmington agreed to supply water for part of North Reading and the ditch along Park Street was dug by hand.....When Mr. Crediford, Principal of the Center School was inducted into the Army.....When Jeanne Ashworth was bringing home all those skating honors.....When Florence Balkus ran Bedell Bros. Ins. business from the Bedell home on Burlington Ave.....When, if you sent for the services of Herb Pickering (Wilmington Plumbing) you might be lucky enough to have Ivan (the Deacon) Palmer come and fix your sink..

.....When Riley Gildart first opened his gas station across from the present Avco site, when with the exception of a black cat, it was a one-man, one-pump operation.....When the Blue Hog Piggery bloomed in South Wilmington on the dump site and the dump was located on Salem St., across from Cronins.....Remember when the town elections were actually held in the Town Hall of which Ernest (Buster) Eames was custodian.....When John and Mike Elia were publicly congratulated by the Middlesex County Extension Service for their part in the war effort (they grew commendable 4-H Victory Gardens).....When you could get your marriage license by visiting Town Clerk Mary Gilligan at the home on Burnap Street, after which you could stop for a cup of coffee at the Silver Lake Lunch (DAV Hall).....or prior to that when one had to get a marriage license at the W.S. Cavanaugh Funeral Home on Main Street, as Billy's father was serving as Town Clerk.....Remember when the Economy Store thrived in the square with Jack Riley as head of the meat department.....When Rodney Buck delivered the Sunday papers.....When George Spanos had his restaurant in the center with all those pictures of service men on the walls.....When, during a particularly frigid winter, a hydrant burst on Andover Street and people came from all around to view the resulting fifteen-foot iceberg.....When the Wilmington Theater, opening under new management advertised "100% Talk-
